LARGE 1970S CONCRETE GARDEN PLANTER WATER TROUGH

SKU: GD1565

£1,500.00

A large Mid Century Concrete Planter, freshly salvaged.

Good scale at 2m in length, this will make a fantastic garden feature, the trough does hold water so could be used as a water feature.

Due to its weight it is ideal for use with larger plants / trees where stability is required.

The concrete is in good structural condition, the piece has several small losses and marks and has a great overall aged patina, ideally suited to a mature garden setting where it will blend in perfectly. If a cleaner look is required then the piece could be cleaned or indeed polished to provide a modernist aesthetic.

A modernist piece if your looking for that 1970s Willy Guhl style - not at all attributed to the designer but certainly of its period.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

| | |
|---|---|
| Age | 1970s |
| Material | Concrete |
| Origin | British |
| Dimensions | H48cm x L195cm x W62cm / H19" x L76.5" x W24.5" |

GALLERY IMAGES